

EI Awards 2013

Energy Institute (EI) Awards recognise individuals and organisations in the global energy industry for setting new standards of excellence and innovation in their daily activities.

EI is running Awards celebrating energy professionals who have raised the benchmarks of competence and dedication to their work.

Entries are judged by an independent panel of energy professionals across eight different categories: Communication, Community Initiative, Energy Excellence, Environment, Innovation, Individual Achievement, Safety and Technology.

The EI Awards present an opportunity to seek independent recognition for a particular project or an individual person, to celebrate and raise the profile of your achievements. The EI Awards recognise the contribution and value to society made every day by those working in the energy industry.
