

GasBuddy.com - GasBuddy/OpenStore LLC

GasBuddy.com is a group of local websites which offers an online method for website visitors to post and view recent retail gasoline prices.

GasBuddy.com is operated by GasBuddy/OpenStore LLC. One of the few things that are as volatile and unpredictable as the weather is gasoline prices. With constantly rising fuel prices it has become important that consumers are able to identify the lowest priced fuel when filling up their vehicles.

GasBuddy.com was founded by Dustin Coupal and Jason Toews as a collection of local websites designed to serve the public with everything needed for consumers to easily and freely share gas-pricing information. With the release of the first GasBuddy/OpenStore LLC. website in June 2000 a monumental change began in the way that people shop for gasoline. Thousands of people have been regularly visiting GasBuddy/OpenStore LLC. websites where they post gas prices and identify the lowest priced fuel in their area - helping everyone to save money at the pumps.

Since GasBuddy.com, as part of GasBuddy/OpenStore LLC., provides an entirely free service we rely solely on sponsor's advertising to cover all organizational expenses and to fund further website development. The GasBuddy/OpenStore LLC. collection of websites has rapidly grown into North America's premiere fuel prices information source. Do your part to promote competition in fuel pricing and help everyone save money on gas by posting prices to the gas price forum on a regular basis.
